SANCTION OF DEBT AGREEMENT ASKED

President Harding, Speaking At Joint Session, Calls It First Clearing In War Clouds

WARNS AGAINST A BONUS

Says Money Received From British Will Be Needed To Meet Obligations On Bonds

(By United Press)

Washington, Feb. 7.—Presenting the agreement for the repayment of the British debt to congress today President Harding in a brief message characterized the settlement as "the first clearing of the war clouded skies in a debt burdened world."

"The settlement," he further declared in speaking before a joint session, is "in effect a fight against war and war expenditures and a rigid adherence to that product of retrenchment, which enhances stability precisely as it discharges obligations."

The president asked congress to approve the settlement speedily. He coupled with this a warning against spending money to be paid by Great Britain for a soldier bonus or any other project, pointing out that the debt is to be paid is already pledged to the repayment of investors in American liberty bonds. He also included a brief but emphatic appeal for the ship subsidy bill, declaring it of great importance to stop loss to the government as to collecting obligations owed it.

He frankly demanded a vote in the senate on the measure. "I plead for a decision," said Harding. "If no decision is given, the legislative branch of the government may proceed as best it can to hold the loss in liquidation and humiliation."

Cancellation of war debt was denounced by the executive. The president started his message by submitting the report of the American funding commission on the British settlement, outlining its terms. The report, he said, itself contained everything necessary to commend it to congressional sanction.

He recalled the fact that the settlement represented a fair bargain, just to both governments, but more importance still a recognition of integrity of agreement, the validity of contracts, of which he said, the world is in great need.

WALTER EASLEY IS CONTINUED ON BOARD

Mayor Thomas Announces He Will Make No Changes In Park Control Body This Year

$1000 WILL BE AVAILABLE

Walter Easley has been reappointed a member of the city park board for another term, Mayor Thomas announced today. Mr. Easley's term of one year having expired Tuesday. The other members of the board are Dr. Frank H. Green and Miss Anna Bohannon, whose did not expire at this time.

The board was created a year ago, soon after Mayor Thomas took office, and the members were appointed for terms of different length so that a new member would come on each year.

In view of the fact that the park board had no opportunity to do anything on account of the lack of funds, Mayor Thomas stated that he had decided to continue Mr. Easley in office.

The park board will get a chance to improve the city park this year because part of the year's revenue for the park fund will be available after the spring installment of taxes is paid. The city council levied a small tax this year, which will raise approximately $1,000 and half of that amount will be paid before May 8.

TWO HIGH SCHOOLS TIED FOR HONORS

Manilla and Center Set The Pace for Attendance Record During The First Semester

AVERAGE 99.2 PERCENT

Further School Statistics Reveal Enrollment of 555 High School Pupils Outside Rushville

Two of the twelve high schools in Rush county tied for attendance honors during the first school semester, according to data on the high schools, compiled by B. D. Farthing, county school superintendent. The two schools were Manilla and Center, each with an average of 99.2 percent, and the entire twelve high schools averaged well, at 97.33 percent.

The report on the high schools is equally as interesting as the two previous reports this week of the consolidated schools, and of the one and two-room buildings.

There are 555 pupils enrolled in the high schools in Rush county, outside of the city of Rushville, and they are distributed in twelve schools, Arlington having the largest (Junior and Senior plan) attendance with 85 pupils, and Homer having the least number with 17 pupils.

The report of James G. Miller, county attendance officer, also reveals that 1830 minutes were lost by pupils in the high schools, on account of tardiness.

In commenting on the report, Mr. Farthing stated: "In the high schools of the county, the total percent of attendance was 97.33 which ranked .53 percent above the percentage of the entire schools of the county for the period of four months."

"There are two schools in the county having a Junior and Senior high school, with Arlington having 48 in the Senior school and 37 in the Junior school, and the Webb school in Rushville township has 19 pupils in the Senior school and 18 in the Junior school."

"Milroy and Carthage have the largest attendance in the high school proper with 72 pupils each in the four year classes. The Homer school is the smallest with 17 pupils and Gings ranks next with 18 in the high school. There are two high schools in Union township, which have an attendance of 49 pupils in the high school and likewise there are two high schools in Walker township with an attendance of 69 pupils."

"Manilla and Center ranked highest in attendance record for the first four months with an average of 99.2 each, and Center also ranked first in the consolidated schools for the same period of school."

"The report of the high schools in the county also shows the number of tardies and the total number of minutes lost on account of tardiness. Three high schools went through the first semester without a single tardy, these being Moscow, Webb and Center."

"Milroy high school had 64 tardies which caused 616 minutes to be lost—this was the largest number of tardies during the 4 months. Homer and New Salem each had 6 tardies, the former losing thereby 41 minutes and the latter 115 minutes; Manilla had 8 tardies with a loss of 47 minutes; Raleigh and Arlington had 4

RECEIVES BIDS ON A COAL UNLOADER

City Council Faces Tasks of Awarding Contract to One of Fifteen Firms Seeking It

THIRTEEN SALESMEN HERE

Expenditure of Few Thousand Dollars Will Save City Money—Routine Business Transacted

The city council held a long meeting Tuesday night, when several matters were taken care of, including the receiving of bids, as previously advertised, for the building and erection of a coal conveyor and unloader for the city water and light plant. A total of 15 firms submitted bids, and a decision on the purchase was deferred until the councilmen had more time to investigate.

The prices on the various kinds of unloaders ranged from $4,500 complete to $18,000. Some firms submitted more than one bid, and others submitted bids in sections for different parts of the machinery.

Thirteen of the firms were represented in person, and each salesman was given an opportunity to discuss his machinery privately with the council, and it was not until a late hour that all of the men had been heard.

The water and light plant spends between $2,500 and $3,000 a year for handling coal and ashes, and it is also believed a profitable thing to install machinery which will unload coal from the cars, carry it to the boilers, and also rake out and carry away the ashes.

An architect will be employed to draw up plans and specifications for a new roof which is now needed over a section of the plant, and which will be made strong enough to support any of the machinery which will be purchased as the result of the bids submitted last night.

In taking up the regular routine of the business, the street commissioner was ordered to notify property owners living in the vicinity of Fourth and Morgan streets, to repair the stone walls, which are said to be in a dangerous condition, and which might topple over on pedestrians.

A discussion was held on the drainage of streets in East Tenth and East Ninth, and the sewer committee will make a personal investigation of the matter, and report on the two at the next meeting.

SALE OF CHRISTMAS SEALS NETS $1,349.86

Gross Receipts Amount To $1,801.82, Of Which Sum $435.36 Goes To State Association

HOW MONEY WILL BE SPENT

The sale of Christmas Seals and Health Bonds in Rush county during the 1924 campaign netted $1,349.86, it was announced today.

The gross sales and contributions amounted to $1,801.82, which reveals that the Psi Iota Xi sorority, which was in charge of the campaign, passed the quota of $1,800 fixed for the county. Of the total raised in the county, $412.60 came from the townships and $1,389.22 from Rushville city.

The expenses of the sale were $16.60 which left $1,785.22, the net sum divided between the county and state tuberculosis association. Twenty-five per cent. of the first $1,500, amounting to $375.00, and twenty per cent of the remainder, 301.82, which amounted to 60.36, went to the state association making the total sent to the state $435.36.

The balance of $1,349.86 left in the county will be used under the direction of the Rushville Woman's Council in financing the visiting nurse in Rushville, the Modern Health Crusade in the public schools of the county and the tuberculosis clinics, four of which will be held in the county this year.

ASSESSORS TO GET READY FOR WORK

Township Officers, Newly Elected Last November, Called to Conference February 22

TO DISCUSS ASSESSMENT

District Meeting of County Assessors From Dozen Counties to be Held Here Feb. 20

A district meeting of county assessors will be held here Tuesday, February 20, for the purpose of discussing the spring assessment of property for taxation purposes, and two days later, on Thursday, February 22, a meeting of township assessors and their deputies will be held here to prepare for their annual duties.

The district meeting will include assessors from all of the counties of the sixth congressional district—Franklin, Union, Fayette, Wayne, Henry, Hancock, Shelby and Rush, in addition to those from Johnson, Decatur, Delaware and Madison, who have also been invited to the conference.

Although the state board of tax commissioners does not desire to be represented at the district meeting of assessors, it happens that Walter Bridges, a representative of the state board, will be in this vicinity on that day and will attend. He will preside at a meeting of township assessors at Liberty Monday preceding the district meeting here and at Connersville the day following, and for this reason will spend the intervening day at the district meeting in Rushville.

Earl F. Priest, Rush county assessor, in calling the meeting of township assessors, for Thursday, February 22, emphasized that they were not invited to the district meeting and urged that they not get the two sessions confused.

The annual assessment of property will begin March 1 and will be completed within sixty days. Only personal property will be appraised this year and the task will be much lighter than it was in 1922, when both real estate and personal property were assessed. Improvements, however, will be placed upon the assessment sheet but this does not call for the difficult task of assessing all real estate and improvements which are appraised every four years.

The law requiring all personal property to be taken at its true cash value is still in force and the state board of tax commissioners has al-

LAST CONTINGENT IS IN AMERICAN WATERS

Standing Off Thebye Island St. Mihiel Was Expected To Dock At Savannah At 2:30

WELCOME LIKE WAR TIMES

Bremen, Feb. 7.—Fifty American officers and 100 enlisted men, left overs of the last of the American army of occupation, sailed for New York in the steamer America today.

Savannah, Ga., Feb. 7.—The United States army of occupation home from the Rhine, reached American waters today.

Standing Off Thebye Island, while Savannah awaited with a welcome as enthusiastic as in war times, the Steamer St. Mihiel, was sighted 11:20 a. m. with 1200 khaki-clad figures jamming the rails. The vessel stopped at quarantine and was to swing into her berth at the dock about 2:30 p. m.

A governor's salute of 21 guns will be fired by two revolutionary cannon presented to Savannah by George Washington, as the ship comes up the bay. A battery of 75's will take up the salute and then harbor crafts, and other whistles and sirens will join in the din.

The banks of the channel leading to the docks were lined with crowds before dawn.

SCORES ARE ENDANGERED

Liner Wilhelmina And Freighter Colide In Pacific

(By United Press)

San Francisco, Calif., Feb. 7.—Scores of lives were endangered today when the liner Wilhelmina carrying 100 passengers and the freighter Sierra collided at sea, seven miles off the Golden Gate entrance to San Francisco bay.

Advices five hours after the collision described the Sierra as "lifting on her side at an angle of 45 degrees, waterlogged and helpless"

The Wilhelmina was reported leaking badly but later was reported to be taking on a comparative small leak of water. It was standing by while her passengers lined the rails watching the sea disaster.

MINORITY THREAT TO LEAVE SENATE

Democratic Senators Assert They Will Leave Chamber After Storm Over State Finances

DEFEATED AT EVERY TURN

Another Effort to Abolish State Highway Commission and Department of Conservation

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 7.—A threat of democratic state senators to leave the senate chamber for the remainder of the legislative session was made today by minority leader Joseph Cravens, following a political storm over the question of state finances.

"Go ahead and leave the chamber," shouted Senator Dailey of Indianapolis. "You are obstructing legislation anyway."

Senator Cravens had presented a resolution of protest against refusal of state officials to enlighten the senate on the financial conditions of the Indiana government. His resolution was tabled by the vote of the republican majority and Cravens thundered the threat.

"Our constitutional rights are being violated here every day of the session," Cravens declared. "There is no rule under which that resolution can be tabled."

Lieut. Governor Branch, presiding, gavelled for order and informed Cravens that "the majority of this senate will rule as long as I sit in the chair as presiding officer."

Later Branch withdrew the action by which the resolution had been tabled and permitted it to go on the senate journal as a matter of record.

Another effort to abolish the state highway commission and another attack against the department of conservation were launched in the legislature today.

Representative Freeman introduced a bill which would dissolve the highway commission and confer its duties upon the governor, auditor and treasurer of state.

A bill to abolish the office of the director of the department of conservation now held by Richard Lieber was presented by Representative Peterson. The bill would place the duties now performed by Lieber upon the members of the conservation commission.

There was a brief tilt in the house of representatives over the Love bill which was drafted to compel the auditor of state to sell submerged land in any community to the highest bidder on petition of five free-holders. Finally the house adopted the majority report of Judiciary B. committee, recommending that the measure be amended to provide that the sale be approved by the auditor, the governor and treasurer of state. The bids must be higher than the assessed value of the property. The Love measure was the outgrowth of the dispute over the sale of Lake county land to Jones-Laughlin steel companies which has been delayed by the auditor awaiting a satisfactory bid.

Party lines in the state house of representatives remained intact today with the republican majority of four votes solidly aligned on party measures. They survived the test

ULTIMATUM TO THE ALLIES REPORTED

Turks Said to Have Ordered All Warships of More Than 1,000 Tons to Leave Smyrna

BRITISH TO TEST IT OUT

Send Warship "Considerable Over 1,000 Tons" Just "to See What Will Happen"

(By United Press)

London, Feb. 7.—The Turkish government has issued an ultimatum ordering all allied warships over 1,000 tons to leave Smyrna harbor before midnight tonight, it was learned on the highest authority today.

In response to the ultimatum, Great Britain sent a warship of "considerable over 1,000 tons" to Smyrna "to see what will happen."

In the meantime, acting under orders from London, the British acting high commissioner at Constantinople conferred with the Turkish representative at Constantinople, urgently requesting the Angora government to rescind the ultimatum.

The British cruiser to test the Turk is expected to arrive at Smyrna late this afternoon. It is believed here there is little likelihood of serious development partially because the harbor is inadequately fortified with little ammunition but principally because the Turks recognize the strength and also the potential friendliness of the British position. The Angora government has given ample indication of desiring peace with Great Britain—but Britain is determined not to permit Turkey to issue any ultimatums, and any others will be met as was the present one.

The British cabinet this afternoon, for the third consecutive day, considered the situation created by the breakdown of the Lausanne conference and considers it unlikely the conference will be resumed.

The British have not communicated with Ismet Pasha, as reported from Paris, but are waiting the Turkish envoy's next move.

Britain is prepared to send another delegate to Lausanne and continue to negotiate with the Turk if categorical assurances are offered that agreement can be reached, it was stated today.

The British cabinet has decided to send a note to the Angora government and ask just what reservations Turkey desires.

If satisfactory reply is received, Britain may agree to resume discussion with assurance France will follow suit. Otherwise, the British feel

TO BUILD ANOTHER CANAL

Government Plans Another One In Vicinity Of Panama Waterway

Washington, Feb. 7.—This government is planning to build another canal in the vicinity of the Panama canal with the profit derived from the latter, it was said at the White House today.

This, however, is an ultimate object of the government and probably will not be consummated for some time yet.

Two probable locations have been suggested: The abandoned site of the proposed canal through Nicaragua and a tide water canal at Panama.

The present canal is operating now only up to a 40 per cent capacity. It cleared in profits last year over $1,500,000 according to a report Secretary of War Weeks made to the cabinet Tuesday when the whole subject was discussed.

Minerals for Swine

What Ohio State University Agricultural Extension Service Says About
ACME MINERAL CO., Wheaton, Illinois.

"Relatively little has been said in the past about feeding mineral to hogs. But of late special attention is being given to this feature of feeding. The present trend of hog production is toward larger hogs. This being true, it takes more bone to support these heavier hogs. Stronger bone means that there must be more mineral matter supplied in the feed to produce it. Experiments show that in average hog feeds hogs do not secure enough mineral matter to produce sufficient bone, and it is more true in the growing of these larger present-day animals. The only way to meet this need, then, is to feed the hogs, especially growing pigs, some special mineral mixture."

The ACME MINERALS that we are manufacturing are made according to the complete Mineral Formula with the nine different ingredients which was worked out at the Iowa Experimental Station by Prof. Evvard, and we will ship to any farmer or feeder the nine different ingredients sacked separately and they may mix their own if they choose at the same price per hundred as the ready mixed.

In buying your mineral mixture, be sure that you buy the complete Mineral Mixture with the nine different ingredients and beware of imitations.

of strength in the division over the appropriation bill late yesterday.
Both the 52 republicans and the 48 democratic members of the house were happy. The republicans found the appropriations to their liking including the $2,000,000 request of Governor McCray to be applied to construction of the new reformatory at Pendleton.
The democrats believed they had a fund of good campaign material and planned to shoot at the republicans on the grounds of extravagance, consequently both sides were celebrating victory.

Only one member of the house failed to stay in line in the strict party division. He was representative Myron Post of Anderson, a democrat, who voted with the republicans against the amendment to reduce the reformatory appropriation. Post represents the county in which the reformatory is being constructed.

When the smoke cleared away it was found the appropriation bill as submitted by the budget committee had not been changed materially. The net result was a reduction of approximately $165,000 in the $16,000,000 total.

WARMER WEATHER IS DUE HERE THURSDAY

States Bordering On Great Lakes Blanketed With Snow, But Higher Temperatures Will Prevail

EAST COAST STORM SWEEP

(By United Press)

Chicago, Feb. 7.—Northern sections of states bordering on the Great Lakes were blanketed with snow, ranging from one to seven inches in depth. In the southern sections rain fell during the night.

Clear and much higher temperatures for the entire middlewest were predicted.
Unseasonably warm weather for several days was forecast.

New York, Feb. 7.—The Atlantic seaboard from New England to the Carolinas was a blizzard-swept today.

Five inches of snow fell in New York and vicinity last night and early today while a hurricane was reported off the Hatteras coast.

All eastern trains were three or four hours late while ships at sea were buffeted by the storm.

The Indiana weather prediction was for cloudy and warmer weather tonight and Thursday, despite the fact that a cold wave warning was issued Tuesday night. Some snow fell last night and this morning and the mercury remained below freezing all day.

THE TENDER SHEPHERD:—
 He shall feed His flock like a shepherd; He shall gather the lambs with His arm, and carry them in His bosom.—Isaiah 40: 11.

Concealed Weapons

Passage by the state senate of a bill giving certain classes of citizens a right to carry pistols or revolvers calls to mind the fact that a uniform revolver law is pending in the United States senate and that it is designed to cure of the ills which are attributable to the carrying of concealed weapons.

The measure proposed in the legislature, if it becomes a law, will not offer a very effective method of dealing with this evil, because it is too indefinite, and because it does not strike at the source of the trouble—the criminal.

The state legislation contemplates authorizing people coming under the general classification of "merchants" to carry concealed firearms for their own safety. In the first place, "merchants" is a term that is difficult to define because anyone engaged in buying and selling might come under that head.

There is already a law providing a penalty for carrying concealed weapons, but its enforcement is so lax and the penalty is so insignificant that it does not deter the criminally-bent individual from possessing a pistol if he feels that need of one.

It is doubtful if any law could ever be devised that will absolutely prevent a criminal from supplying himself with a weapon of some kind. The fact is admitted by all who have given the question any study. It would be possible to prohibit the legitimate manufacture and sale of firearms, such as the bandit uses and it would be possible to stop their importation, but the criminal would still have his gun.

If such laws were put in effect, there are plenty of so-called "hand guns" in this country, it is asserted, to supply the criminal demand for years to come. If the criminal did not own one, he could very easily obtain one in some way. Failing in an attempt to steal a gun, he could smuggle one from another country or buy one from a pistol bootlegger, a gentry that would undoubtedly spring up in the wake of prohibitory legislation of this character.

It has been argued that to forbid

the manufacture and sale of pistol and revolver ammunition, would be to lessen the number of homicides, but if the supply of ammunition were diminished by this means, it would be the law-abiding citizen who would be placed at a disadvantage. Many ways would be found by the fore-handed criminal to obtain ammunition. Those familiar with the manufacture of ammunition say that powder and lead would always be available and the modern pistol or revolver cartridge with the brass shell may be used many times.

The question resolves itself, then, into one of a regulatory measure that would keep a check on all pistols and revolvers sold. Such a law would not place the law abiding citizen at the mercy of the law violator who would obtain a gun at any cost.

The measure pending in the United States senate would permit he who has regard for the law to arm himself and at the same time provide severe penalties for the use of pistols or revolvers in the commission of crimes, or for the unauthorized carrying of weapons of this character on one's person or in vehicles.

Let the criminal know that the mere possession of a pistol will add several years to the sentence he would ordinarily receive for his crime and shootings and homicides might be materially reduced.

Dealers are licensed under the proposed federal law and a record of the sale of each revolver or pistol must be filed with the police. Owners who carry such firearms must have a license from the police and dealers are not permitted to display pistols or revolvers, or imitations thereof, which can be seen from outside the store. Aliens, minors and persons convicted of a felony would not be permitted to possess concealed firearms and possession of a pocket firearm without legal permission would be regarded as prima facie evidence of criminal intent and would be punishable by a mandatory sentence of five years extra imprisonment.

The Rural Police Bill

Some newspapers have been applauding because the congress has looped off $365,000 which has been annually appropriated for free seeds—a sum that is paid by all the taxpayers of the United States—and then in the next column insisting on the establishment of a rural police force which would impose a much heavier tax burden on the taxpayers, not because it would be more costly than free seed, but because the expense would have to be met by Indiana alone and would cost the people of the state many times more than free seeds ever cost.

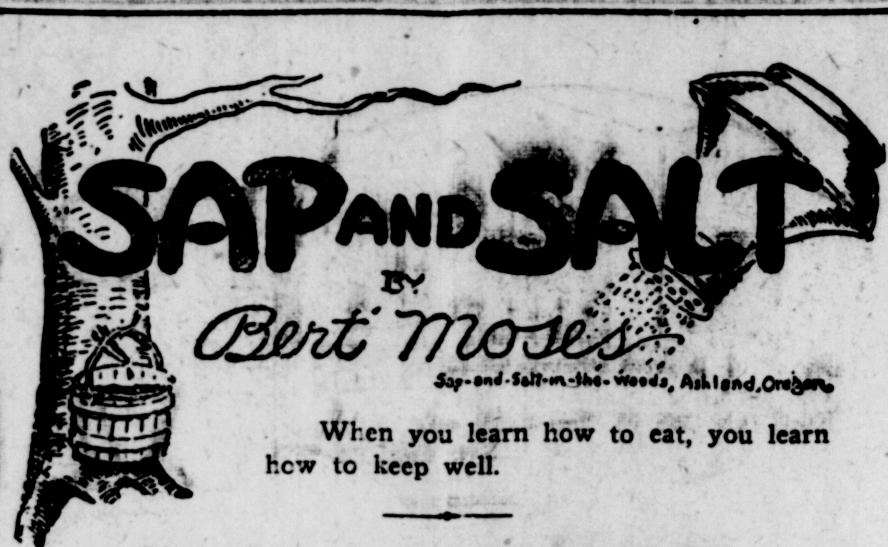

This is no defense of free seeds distributed by congressmen, but the analogy is plain. There is no need for either, and why should one be condemned and the other supported.

In support of the rural police bill, we note the argument that passage of the bill "would give much needed protection to the wives and families of farmers, the protection which city residents have so long enjoyed."

So it is the poor and helpless farmer who needs the protection, but he was not aware of it. He has not been adopting resolutions insisting on the passage of the bill. He never knew he was in danger. He seldom locks his doors when he leaves home. He knows and everyone else knows that nine-tenths of the crime is in the large centers of population even though they "enjoy" the protection of a large force of police.

Furthermore, one troop of eighty-four rural policemen patrolling the highways of Indiana would not scratch the surface. In a state 270 mile long and 140 miles wide, they would be as ineffectual as a small town constable trying to stop the fastest automobile on wheels.

If there were any real demand for such a force, and any real use to which it could be put, the bill might have some merit, but it has little more to recommend it than the free seeds appropriation because it would be of little more value, and we must weigh its worth against what it will cost.

When you learn how to eat, you learn how to keep well.

People should be judged more by what they haven't than by what they have.

Income Tax Facts

No. 6.

Anomalous as it may seem, a person may be married and yet single for the purpose of the income tax law. A taxpayer's status with regard to exemptions and credits is determined as of the last day of the taxable year December 31, 1922, if the return is made on the calendar year basis, as most are. If on that day a man and his wife were living together they are entitled to an exemption of $2,000 or $2,500, according to the amount of their net income for 1922. If, however they were divorced, each is allowed only the $1,000 exemption granted a single person.

In the absence of continuous residence together, the question of whether man and wife are living together in the eyes of the income-tax law depends upon the character of the separation. If, occasionally the husband is away on business, or if for any necessary reason a temporary separation exists, the full exemption is allowed. The presence of a wife at a sanitarium or her unavoidable absence because of ill health does not change the marital status, and the husband is entitled to the full exemption. But when the husband makes his home at one place and his wife at another, they are not living together for the purpose of the income tax law.

The law works both ways. A man may wed on December 31, yet he is granted the exemption allowed a married person for the full year. The bride's income for 1922, however, must be considered with that of her husband in filing a return. A widower whose wife died before the end of the taxable year is classed as a single man and allowed only an exemption of $1,000.

Similar conditions exist with respect to the head of the family. If during the year his support of relatives in his home ceased he is entitled to the $1,000 exemption. A man who has a dependent child, not mentally or physically defective, that attains the age of 18 years just before the close of the taxable year can not claim the $400 for a dependent. Likewise, if a dependent dies before the end of the benefactor's taxable year, the $400 credit is not allowable.

PEOPLE'S SAYSO

The Rushville Republican:

The article in the Rush County News of the first instance entitled "protest made over appointment" in which our county auditor is criticized for his lawful act in appointing a trustee for Center township, and signed 100 percent American, does not carry the same weight it would had the skirts of the democratic party been spotless. He says "we elected a democratic trustee in our township," which we all admit. But the question of politics did not enter into the campaign nearly so much as 100 percent perhaps thinks.

The personality of the candidates, the school house and gymnasium question, distribution of patronage such as, road work, buying gravel, etc., had as much to do with it as politics, and as evidence of the above assertion, note the fact that there was only a margin of eleven votes for the successful candidate, also there was one Republican member of the advisory board elected in a "township" that has always been safely democratic," as claimed by 100 percent American.

Again the applicant for trustee whose petition contained over three hundred names, was at one time repudiated by the voters of Center township and was defeated by his Republican opponent, and he also had been as bitterly opposed at another time for the office of road supervisor by some who were his most loyal supporters for trustee in this instance.

Then 100 percent takes us away back to 1876 and to the national election of that year. That of course has very little to do with the appointment of a trustee for Center township, but looking backward is perhaps a good and instructive diversion, at times, so let us look back to 1886 for instance, to the time when Lieutenant Governor Robertson was elected and a democratic legislature prevented him from taking his seat as president of the senate by a force of sixty door-keepers, some of them thugs imported from other states and noted for their pugilistic abilities.

And it may be recalled by many that when the then democratic supreme court refused to declare his election illegal, that the Indianapolis Sentinel, the Democratic state paper, appeared the next day with the glaring headlines—"The Supreme court, Damn their cowardly souls." In regard to the auditor making the appointment he was only fulfilling the law, and could not have made a better selection. If this law does not suit the people of the state or 100 percent American, now is a good time while the legislature is in session to have it repealed or amended. For the benefit of 100 percent American we would suggest a law that whenever a vacancy occurs in any office in this state, whether by death, resignation or expiration of the present incumbent's term, the same shall be filled by a democrat.

We would suggest also that "100 percent American" try Emile Cone's auto-suggestion for the relief of his intestinal trouble, or reduce his percent to comply with the eighteenth amendment. It might be said of 100 percent American as Artemus Ward said about the monkey, "he's an amusin' little cuss."

Hittin' 'Em & Missin' 'Em

IT'S A GOOD NAME WHY NOT USE IT?

Every school has a name. If its a one room building it is called Gahm-er or Nell's Corner; if its a two room building it has an individual name. The Rushville high school has a name—it is the Graham high school, and Hittin' 'em is in favor of having that word Graham printed on the basketball jerseys. All cities are doing it. Up at Richmond it is the Morton high school, at Seymour it is the Shield high school, and Central of Evansville, Garfield of Terre Haute and why not Graham of Rushville? That one word across the jerseys either in front or behind, might change the luck in the next game, and besides it would look better at the sectional, regional and state tourney. What do you say, gang?

We haven't heard much from Newcastle lately. They have lost three in a row—Muncie, Rushville and Marion. They are doomed again Friday as they meet Connersville.

COMING LOADED FRIDAY
Cathedral high school is coming loaded Friday night, according to word from Indianapolis. Their school semester has ended, and several new players who have been ineligible will be in the line-up. They won't have to load up any, if that man O'Conner plays center. He has an accurate eye for the basket from any place on the floor.

Hittin' 'em is just wondering if the Rushville team is practicing on the basket this week. All you fellows have to do, is to be more deliberate with your shots, take your time, and place the ball where it is supposed to go. It's not the fault of the ball, if it don't go through.

We'd practice on foul goals until our hair turned white, but what we would make at least 8 out of 10 shots.

THE REAL ALL COUNTY AGGREGATION

If Hittin' 'em were pickin' a Rush county high school basketball team—composed of players living in this county, we'd pick the following: Barnett (Shelbyville), Baker (Manilla), Readmond (Milroy), forwards: Hodges (Shelbyville), and Gosnell (Moscow) as centers; Phillips (Rushville), Cowan (Milroy), and McCorkle (Milroy), as guards. That bunch of Rush county boys could beat Vincennes, or even knock the props out from under that Passaic, N. J. team.

FAN SAYS ANDERSON IS ROUGH
Dear Hittin' 'em—We have been reading your column with much interest. We want to say a word about the Anderson's game with Rushville in the near future. We have always heard that Staggs has taught his men to rough up their opponents, get them scared and then go ahead and win. Watch him Rushville, and rough 'em back. Signed, A Fan.

AND ALSO THIS—
The same writer also says: "You are always pickin' Anderson for the state. We hope you are right, but Anderson didn't rough up the Alicetown boys the other night. We wonder why?" Hittin' 'em has always heard that Anderson was rough, Mr. Fan, but after seeing them play a few games, we decided that they weren't rough, but that the other fellows just got in their way, and couldn't keep pace with 'em, and naturally they would get knocked down now and then, and maybe stepped on. Rushville will have to step fast, and they will have to keep out of their way, if they don't want to get roughed up a little.

CHEER UP TECH—IT COULDN'T BE MUCH WORSE
Tech of Indianapolis, with eleven straight games lost, missed their chance. They should have played Rushville this year, where they had an opportunity of winning a game—perhaps.

If Rushville hadn't won a game this season, we wonder how many people would turn out to see 'em play. One thing about the team this year, they always die fighting—but we would a whole lot rather see 'em live.

A FINANCIAL BOOST

Since Connersville will play over here in the sectional tourney, it will mean one big thing financially. There will be a scramble for tickets at the tourney, because each school is allowed one ticket for each pupil in high school, and Connersville gets 570 of 'em, while Rushville gets only 275. All other towns will have their share, and we doubt if there will be enough to go around for the outside fans, who will have a chance to buy tickets turned back from the schools.

Giving Wilson Fighting Chance

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)
New York, Feb. 7—Beyond showing twice that he is the champion of Mike O'Dowd, Johnny Wilson hasn't done a thing much in two years. Johnny failed to convince the New York Boxing Commission that he was the world's middleweight champion and he has had a tough time making anyone believe he could even fight.

World's ring titles usually bring fortunes and luck in great gobs, but when Wilson stumbled into the middleweight regal robes he got his feet all tangled up and he is still down. He has been under suspension so long by the New York Commission that a change of heart is being felt in the official circle and it is understood that he will soon be allowed to go back to his business.

The New York Commissioners should be commended for symptoms of giving Wilson a square deal, but after looking over the situation, it begins to appear that the commission is being nice to Wilson, just to give him a harder sock.

When Wilson does go back to work, he will find so few middleweights who can draw a dime at the door that he will have to start associating with the light heavyweights. And what a nice congenial bunch of boys he will find hanging around in that class with a sock ready for him—Greb, Gibbons, Tunney, Loughran and a few others.

Wilson should have been reinstated many months ago. He has been under suspension for alleged violation of a rule that other champions failed to observe and have escaped without even notice.

As long as Wilson is not permitted to earn a living, Harry Greb should not be permitted to box in New York.

Wilson was suspended because he failed to accept the challenge of Greb. When Greb was challenged, he ignored it because he did not want to make the weight in the class.

Greb was reinstated after serving a few weeks, but Wilson is "still on the ground."

If Wilson is to be made that goat of the "champions must defend their titles every six months," Leonard, Lynch and Dempsey ought to get the same dose.

Dempsey's talk that he has no one to fight that he is a battling king with no more world's to conquer, is the truth if Harry Wills Tommy Gibbons, Jess Willard, Bill Brennan and a couple of others are not considered as being in the world.

Dempsey, however, may not be afraid to step into the ring, but Joe Lynch is getting timid about his shadow and Benny Leonard is suffering chills in his shoes.

Dempsey will go into the ring if he can get $500,000 from some weak-minded promoter and the other pair want almost as much to defend their titles.

SHELBYVILLE ELKS LOSE BY ONE POINT

Shamrocks in Curtain Raiser by
The Count of 36 to 13

The Arlington Athletic Club sent the Shelbyville Elks home Tuesday night with the short end of the 23 to 22 count, in the closest and most hard fought game seen at the Arlington gymnasium for some time.

The two basketball teams fought neck and neck most of the way, the Elks scoring the first two points on a foul. They were soon matched by a field goal by Gardner of the A. C's. In the first few minutes of play the two teams fought desperately, the A. C's running the score up six points. The Elks evened up the score with two foul goals by Richardson and when the half ended they were leading by two points.

In the second half Arlington came back strong and were leading by four points with ten minutes to go. However, the Elks took a streak of luck and evened up the score and then took the lead and held it by 22 to 21 until the final ten seconds of play. Gardner saved the game for Arlington with a long field goal just before the gun was fired, making the final score 23 to 22.

Gardner was the outstanding star for Arlington, making five field goals, followed closely by Shook who made three. W. Richardson showed best for the Elks, making four field goals. Kaufman at center for the Elks also made a good showing. Shelbyville was very much disappointed as they expected an easy game, but soon found out that they had run up against real opposition.

The Junior A. C's won their game handily from the Rushville Shamrocks, 36 to 13. Miller for the Juniors made eighteen points. Davis showed best for the Shamrocks.

The district independent basketball tournament will be held at the Arlington gymnasium on February 16 and 17 and so far nine teams have entered the tourney.

Blackheaded Pimples Quit With S. S. S.

Why? Pimple-Poison Goes When Red-Blood-Cells Increase! S. S. S. Builds These Red-Blood-Cells.

You can be sure of this, nature has no substitute for red-blood-cells. Pimple-poison can't live in the red rivers of your blood as long as there are enough rich red-blood-cells in it. More red-blood-cells!

That is what you need when you see pimples starting at you in the mirror. Black-headed pimples are worse! Eczema is worse yet! You can try everything under the sun—you'll find only one answer, more cell-power in your blood! The tremendous results, produced by an increase in red-blood-cells is one of the A. B. C's of medical science. Red-cells mean clear-pure rich blood. They mean clear, ruddy, lovable complexions. They mean nerve power, because all your nerves are fed by your blood. They mean freedom forever from pimples, from the blackhead pest, from boils, from eczema and skin eruptions, from rheumatism impurities, from that tired, exhausted, run-down feeling. Red-blood-cells are the most important thing in the world to each of us. S. S. S. will build them for you. S. S. S. has been known since 1826, as one of the greatest blood-builders, blood-cleansers and system strengtheners, ever produced. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores in two sizes. Cheap foods are never worth what they cost. They are of no value as tissue builders—they merely fill you up.

Real economy in foods lies in buying goods that have nutritive value and possess a flavor that makes them palatable and enjoyable. There is no waste or extravagance in our groceries, the best foods cost no more than ordinary kinds when bought from us.

LOYALTY is not a one-sided flour. It is made to serve the whole circle of kitchen economy. Try it. We believe that you will find it better than the one you thought best.

We are receiving shipments of oysters every few days, solid pack, no water, sealed containers that guarantee their purity to the consumer.

Some folks have always objected to oleomargarine on account of the fact that it had to be colored. TINTED CHURNGOLD removes this objection, no artificial coloring is used, yet the color is practically the same as of creamery butter.

We have just got another mammoth cheese. Last week we were asked by a salesman to write a letter to a grocer in another city telling him the number of mammoth cheese we sell each winter. The grocer had doubted the salesman's word when he told him; said it couldn't be done. Rush county folks know good cheese when they taste it.

Winamac School Class Serves Dinner From Native Products

Winamac, Ind., Feb. 7—A luncheon prepared entirely from farm products raised in Pulaski county and served by the Home Economics class of the Winamac high school was held here by the Kiwanis club at the suggestion of County Agent J. J. Mathews. Farmers donated the food so that business men might know the value of Pulaski farm products.

The menu listed chicken, baked soybeans, mashed potatoes, cabbage salad, corn bread from flour and corn grown and milled in the county, honey, apple dumplings with whipped cream and pure milk guaranteed free from tubercular germs. Even the "pure Havans" came from Pulaski tobacco farms and were wrapped in a Winamac factory.

ready made it plain that it will expect the county assessors to see that the rule is uniformly followed.

The purpose of the meeting to be held this month will be to give the township assessors who were elected last November an opportunity to meet together and get acquainted so that there will be a better understanding among them when they start out upon their work. It is expected that a schedule relative to figures at which various articles of personal property will be assessed this year will be compiled so that all classes of property throughout the county will be listed upon exactly the same basis. For several years such lists have been prepared but it is necessary that a range of values be allowed, so after all the assessment rests very largely upon the judgment of the deputy. Mr. Bridges, a representative of the state tax board will meet with the township assessors and outline in a general way just how the state board expects the work to be done.

Prior to March 1 the various township assessors will appoint deputies where assistants are required. In some townships the assessors are able to do much of the work themselves and particularly so this year when only personal property is to be listed. In this township several deputies will be appointed by George Aultman, township assessor. He will divide the township into districts so that the work can be done to the best advantage.

PAULS CREED WAS SIMPLE, SECURE

Every Man Has One That Represents What He Believes, Says The Rev. W. McClean Work

SAYS ATHEISM HAS A CREED

More Faith Required to be an Infidel Than to Believe in God and The Bible

The Rev. W. McClean Work, who is preaching at a series of special meetings at the First United Presbyterian church, spoke Tuesday night on Second Timothy, 1:12, "I know Him whom I believed and am persuaded that He is able to guard that which have committed to Him against that day."

"Every man has a creed," asserted the minister. "It may be short or long, but it represents what he believes. Columbus believed the world to be round, and America was discovered. Benjamin Franklin believed that there is power in the clouds and this building is lighted with electricity. Somebody believed that there is power in steam and our wonderful civilization was built up. Even infidelity and atheism have a creed. Those who have read after the great doubters and skeptics have been impressed with the great extent of their credulity. It requires more faith to be an infidel than to believe in God and the Bible. The text gives Paul's creed. It did not rest on the statement of a book, but on a person. 'I know Him whom I have believed.'"

The topic chosen was "Paul's Creed." Four things were said of it: 1. It was simple. The speaker told of a meeting held in college where the very finest scholars spoke before the students on the evidence of Christianity. They marshalled the proofs of the resurrection, and they were not moved. Then an old, ignorant huckster from the town, one well known to all the boys, came and spoke to about 270 of them. His first question was "How many of you love Jesus?" They looked at him and at one another, and every hand went up.

"Theology is necessary, but a living faith is vital. And it must rest on a person. And that person is Jesus Christ," said the speaker.

"2. Paul's creed was satisfying. It satisfied his mind and his heart. It furnished the foundation of confidence and of freedom. It removed fear from his heart and doubt from his mind.

"3. Paul's creed was sufficient. It was compared to a blank check signed with the name of a man of wealth and placed in his hand. All that was necessary was to fill in the amount and pay the bill. Paul's faith was fixed on one able to perform whatever he willed. In this was the contrast with any human friend. The human friend is limited. Jesus Christ is not limited. 'He is able to guard that which I have committed to him.'"

The preacher said, "If you know whom you believe, you will soon come to know what you believe." Instances were cited where men believed in Jesus Christ, but were oppressed with doubts as to other matters. But soon faith in a person dispelled doubts as to things.

"4. Paul's creed was secure. 'He was able to guard.' Scientific theories and theological theories are legion in number. They arise and disappear. As one passes, another takes its place. Text books in science more than ten years old are of little value and are thrown out of schools and libraries.

The speaker thought that we attacks on God's word and on His attacks on God's word and on His Church. In his opinion, faith on a person rather than on things, or statements, would tend to lend security to faith. He said that "belief in Christ would make us secure from ridicule. This is the poisoned shaft that most often comes from a little mind. Such ones take pleasure in attacks on the young Christian and those of immature experience."

The case of the soldiers mistreating Christ was cited. They arrayed Him in a purple robe. They placed a crown of thorns on His brow. They put a reed in His hand for a scepter. Then they spat upon Him, and bowed the knee in the mockery of worship. "He is able to save, also, from indifference," said Mr. Work. "The race of Cain has perished from the earth. No man any more asks this question—'Am I my brother's keeper?' Everybody knows that each one is responsible for his brother man. 'No man liveth to himself and no man dieth to himself'."

The sermon closed with a strong appeal to those unsaved to take Jesus Christ as the ground of their confidence. This was the most enjoyed of all the addresses so far. One decision was secured that brought an entire family into the circle of the church.

The topic for this evening is Christ's Summons to 20th Century Woman. A cordial invitation is extended to all to come back again tonight and bring a friend along.

PLANS STARTED FOR PRE-EASTER SERVICES

Committee Appointed At Last Presbyterian Church Meeting For Two Weeks Series

CHURCH COUNCIL PROPOSED

Arrangements were made for pre-Easter services for the two weeks preceding Easter, which falls on April 1 this year, at the meeting of the officers of the First Presbyterian church in the church parlors Tuesday evening.

It was the first meeting of the official board with the new pastor, the Rev. Gibson Wilson who assumed his pastoral duties last Sunday, and it was his wish that the services be held to begin Sunday, March 18. The pastor will preach and will be assisted by an evangelist singer. Committees were appointed to prepare for the series of meetings.

A proposed church council to meet on the last Tuesday night of each month was also projected at the meeting of the church officers last night. The church council would consist of the officers of all the different organizations of the church. At council meetings they would discuss the general church problems and of all organizations for the forthcoming month.

their position in the Near East is extremely sound from a military and economic viewpoint.

Although deprecating a war scare, the military and naval authorities at London are known to be going carefully over the ground and plans already have been outlined that involve seizure of Constantinople.

Lausanne, Feb. 7.—Both the Russians and the Turks left Lausanne today and rumblings of impending war in the Near East followed on their heels.

Ismet Pasha, recalcitrant to the last, departed for Ankara with a majority of the Ottoman delegation at 6:40 a. m., leaving a few secretaries "in case the allies change their minds". M. Massigli, representing the entente, bade them a cordial farewell at the station, but feeling was that the peace parley was definitely at an end.

The Russians, still protesting that the allies must meet their terms regarding the straits, which they wished closed to warships left at 8 o'clock.

The petitioner has built a new house, and he has no outlet for water in his basement, which is flooded most of the time, and by connecting with the sewer, he believes that it will take care of the water.

The city is going to push their claims against petitioners living between Fifth and Sixth street in Main street, who asked for paved alleys last fall. The petitioners desired to construct the alleys at their own cost, and the bids were received, but were regarded as being too high, and the matter was dropped, although the city is still holding the bag for $400 expense on the matter of having the alleys surveyed, advertised and other expenses.

In the future, a cash deposit is going to be required for persons wanting construction work done because in every case the city loses money, when the project fails.

BIG BOOZE BOYS TO STAND TRIAL

High Officials Of Calumet Involved In Bingest Liquor Conspiracy In Middle West

FEW MAY PLEAD GUILTY

Mayor Johnson, City Judge Dunn And
Prosecutor Fall in Category Of
"Big Boys"

Indianapolis, Feb. 7.—Government booze hounds who followed a trail started by Pretty Agnes Szabo to "the biggest liquor conspiracy in the midwest" involving high officials of the Calumet steel region said today "some more of the small fish may break ranks with pleas of guilty but the big boys will stand trial."

Mayor Roswell Johnson, City Judge William Dunn, Prosecutor Dwight Kinder, Sheriff William H. Olds, Former Sheriff Lewis Barnes and many other officials fell in the category of "the big boys." Lined up with "the small fish" were Ike Alvarez, Sam Marchuk and Mike Drakulich who admitted their guilt.

The teeth were taken out of the government's indictments when Judge A. B. Anderson sustained demurrers to the fifth count charging conspiracy to commit fraud against the United States government. That was the count upon which District Attorney Homer Elliott relied largely to obtain conviction. However, all of the other counts charge conspiracy in some form and Elliott said he will build up a case around each of them to make conviction doubly sure.

Trials will start March 14.

It was during the trial of a South Bend liquor conspiracy cases that Agnes Szabo, the uncrowned queen of booze runners, "spilled the beans" verifying and enlarging on testimony of two Gary constables, Agnes with deliberation told of transactions in which she bought confiscated whiskey from agents of high officials and ran it along the hi-jacker infested road to South Bend where she sold it.

CHILDLESS HOMES MADE HAPPY Presence of Little Ones a Great Blessing

Four Interesting Letters

Cortland, N. Y.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because I was weak and wanted to become strong and have a child. My husband read about it in the 'Cortland Standard' and thought it might help me. It certainly did for I now have a lovely boy fifteen months old who weighs forty pounds. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to my friends and you can certainly use my testimonial in your little books and in the newspapers, as it might help to make some other childless home happy by the presence of little ones as it has done mine."—Mrs. CLAUDE P. CANFIELD, 10 Salisbury St., Cortland, N. Y.

A Message to Mothers

Hamilton, Ohio.—"I have known about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound since girlhood, having taken it when I was younger and suffering from a weakness and backache. Lately I have taken it again to strengthen me before the birth of my child, as I was troubled with pains in my back and a lifeless, weak feeling. I think if mothers would only take your wonderful medicine they would not dread childbirth as they do. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to every woman."—Mrs. JOS. FALCOW, JR., 552 S. 11th Street, Hamilton, Ohio.

St. Louis, Mo.—"I want to tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me seven years ago. I was run down and had a weakness such as women often have. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and after being married sixteen years became the mother of a sweet little girl. I now have four lovely children—three fine boys and the little girl six years old. I had longed for children all the while and wept many a day and envied every woman with a child. I was 36 years old when my first baby was born. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to any woman who is ailing with female weakness."—Mrs. J. NAUMANN, 1517 Benton St., St. Louis, Mo.

Was Weak and Run Down

St. Louis, Mo.—"My mother took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound when I was a girl, and when I was troubled with cramps I took it, and later when I married I again took it to make me strong as the doctor said I was weak and run down and could not have children. I took it and got strong fine and now I have three girls. So you know why I keep the Compound in the house. I am a well woman and do my work and sewing too."—Mrs. JULIUS HARTMAN, 2501 W. Dodier St., St. Louis, Mo.

AMUSEMENTS

"The Love Gambler." Mystic

John Gilbert, who will be remembered here for his exceptional portrayal of Dante in the pictorial version of Alexander Dumas' immortal romance, "Monte Cristo," returned to the Mystic Theatre today in a new vehicle, "The Love Gambler," in which he scores another success.

"The Love Gambler" contains a distinctly original story and John Gilbert, as Dick Manners, gives a thoroughly enjoyable characterization. Much credit also is due Miss Carmel Myers for her superlative portrayal of an untamed girl of the plains.

How Dick Manners, a "carefree youth from no place in particular, bound on the wings of the wind for the same place," gambled with destiny for the hand of a girl, provides the basis of this dramatic story of the west, which, despite its light and breezy atmosphere, is replete with thrills and powerful dramatic moments.

Dick blows into town just in time to meet a youth beating a defenceless horse with a heavy end of a blacksnake whip, and decides to give him some of his own medicine. Just as he starts to give the man a beating a girl leaps from the crowd of on lookers and gives Dick a stinging blow across the face. A few minutes later some one told Dick the girl and a horse she owned, which had never been ridden, were the only two things her father had never been able to rule. Dick then and there placed a bet he not only could tame the horse but the girl as well.

A Story Of India

The story of "The Young Rajah" in which Rodolph Valentino appears today and Thursday at the Princess theatre introduces Amos Judd, first as a young Hindu prince—a child brought to this country for political reasons and placed in the care of Joshua and Sarah Judd, kindly New England farmers, together with an immense fortune. As the child grows up he demonstrates a remarkable gift of foretelling events, and his predictions always come true. As a man, he goes to Harvard and wins signal honors, but incurs the bitter animosity of Bennett who believes him responsible for the accident which causes the death of Slade Bennett's friend. Amos and Bennett fall in love with the same girl—Molly Cabot.

In India, there is religious conflict and a usurpation of the throne. The Maharajah plans to kill Amos and sends a delegation to America for that purpose. Amos wins Molly's love and the wedding is planned, but the former then has a vision of an attack upon himself by East Indians. Measures are taken for his protection, but the Hindus get him and are about to murder him when General Gadi, the man who had brought Amos as a child to America, the priest Narada and Gadi's men save him. The priest tells Amos he must come back and free his people from the usurper. Amos fights between love and duty and finally decides he must fulfill the latter and returns to his native land.

Molly is heartbroken at his departure, but later Amos is seen looking into the waters of a beautiful lake wherein he sees the vision of a Hindu wedding and as the bride raises her veil, her face is that of the woman he loves—Molly. And Amos's visions always come true! Wanda Hawley plays opposite the star.

Pioneer In Her Art

A series of fancy exhibitions will be given at the Rollo Rink on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings by Adelaide D'Vorak, the world's greatest lady roller skater. Original acts and a varied program for each performance are assured the public. To Miss D'Vorak credit must be given in a large measure, now that fancy skating has become an art, as she is a pioneer in the field.

Miss D'Vorak carries the most beautiful costumes of any skater before the public. The most elaborate costume in her $1,000 wardrobe of rich gowns is a turkish harem costume. Arrayed in this, she was awarded a gold loving cup by Queen Mary of England, her dress being chosen as the most distinctive of the 15 skaters, who appeared at the Olympia Rink, London.

Miss D'Vorak is a booster of roller skating as a sport and states that it has an advantage over ice skating inasmuch as it can be enjoyed the year round and that it never grows monotonous. She states that it is the best exercise to develop and beautify the female form.

EVANGELIST IS INSPIRING

The revival services at the United Brethren church at the corner of Sixth and Arthur streets, were well attended Tuesday evening. Evangelist Shaw delivered the message, taking for his subject, "The Blessedness of Walking in the Light of God's Word." The interest at these meetings is excellent and the messages have been very inspiring and helpful. There will be services at the church this evening beginning promptly at 7:30 o'clock and the public is cordially invited to attend and hear the evangelist's messages, which are based on the word of God.

SULPHUR IS BEST TO CLEAR UP UGLY, BROKEN OUT SKIN

Any breaking out or skin irritation on face, neck or body is overcome quickest by applying Menthosulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation that instantly brings ease from the itching, burning and irritation.

Menthosulphur heals eczema right up, leaving the skin clear and smooth. It seldom fails to relieve the torment or disfigurement. A little jar of Rowles Menthosulphur may be obtained at any drug store. It is used like cold cream.

SANCTION OF DEBT AGREEMENT ASKED

President Harding, Speaking At Joint Session, Calls It First Clearing
In War Clouds

WARNS AGAINST A BONUS

Says Money Received From British
Will Be Needed To Meet Obligations
On Bonds

(By United Press)

Washington, Feb. 7.—Presenting the agreement for the repayment of the British debt to congress today President Harding in a brief message characterized the settlement as "the first clearing of the war clouded skies in a debt burdened world."

"The settlement," he further declared in speaking before a joint session, is "in effect a fight against war and war expenditures and a rigid adherence to that product of retrenchment, which enhances stability precisely as it discharges obligations."

The president asked congress to approve the settlement speedily. He coupled with this a warning against spending money to be paid by Great Britain for a soldier bonus or any other project, pointing out that the debt is to be paid is already pledged to the repayment of investors in American liberty bonds. He also included a brief but emphatic appeal for the ship subsidy bill, declaring it of great importance to stop loss to the government as to collecting obligations owed it.

He frankly demanded a vote in the senate on the measure. "I plead for a decision," said Harding. "If no decision is given, the legislative branch of the government may proceed as best it can to hold the loss in liquidation and humiliation."

Cancellation of war debt was denounced by the executive. The president started his message by submitting the report of the American funding commission on the British settlement, outlining its terms. The report, he said, itself contained everything necessary to commend it to congressional sanction.

He recalled the fact that the settlement represented a fair bargain, just to both governments, but more important still a recognition of integrity of agreement, the validity of contracts, of which he said, the world is in great need.

WALTER EASLEY IS CONTINUED ON BOARD

Mayor Thomas Announces He Will Make No Changes In Park Control Body This Year

$1000 WILL BE AVAILABLE

Walter Easley has been reappointed a member of the city park board for another term, Mayor Thomas announced today. Mr. Easley's term of one year having expired Tuesday. The other members of the board are Dr. Frank H. Green and Miss Anna Bohannon, whose did not expire at this time.

The board was created a year ago, soon after Mayor Thomas took office, and the members were appointed for terms of different length so that a new member would come on each year.

In view of the fact that the park board had no opportunity to do anything on account of the lack of funds, Mayor Thomas stated that he had decided to continue Mr. Easley in office.

The park board will get a chance to improve the city park this year because part of the year's revenue for the park fund will be available after the spring installment of taxes is paid. The city council levied a small tax this year, which will raise approximately $1,000 and half of that amount will be paid before May 8.

TWO HIGH SCHOOLS TIED FOR HONORS

Manilla and Center Set The Pace for Attendance Record During The First Semester

AVERAGE 99.2 PERCENT

Further School Statistics Reveal
Enrollment of 555 High School Pupils
Outside Rushville

Two of the twelve high schools in Rush county tied for attendance honors during the first school semester, according to data on the high schools, compiled by B. D. Farthing, county school superintendent. The two schools were Manilla and Center, each with an average of 99.2 percent, and the entire twelve high schools averaged well, at 97.33 percent.

The report on the high schools is equally as interesting as the two previous reports this week of the consolidated schools, and of the one and two-room buildings.

There are 555 pupils enrolled in the high schools in Rush county, outside of the city of Rushville, and they are distributed in twelve schools, Arlington having the largest (Junior and Senior plan) attendance with 85 pupils, and Homer having the least number with 17 pupils.

The report of James G. Miller, county attendance officer, also reveals that 1830 minutes were lost by pupils in the high schools, on account of tardiness.

In commenting on the report, Mr. Farthing stated: "In the high schools of the county, the total percent of attendance was 97.33 which ranked .53 percent above the percentage of the entire schools of the county for the period of four months."

"There are two schools in the county having a Junior and Senior high school, with Arlington having 48 in the Senior school and 37 in the Junior school, and the Webb school in Rushville township has 19 pupils in the Senior school and 18 in the Junior school."

"Milroy and Carthage have the largest attendance in the high school proper with 72 pupils each in the four year classes. The Homer school is the smallest with 17 pupils and Gings ranks next with 18 in the high school. There are two high schools in Union township, which have an attendance of 49 pupils in the high school and likewise there are two high schools in Walker township with an attendance of 69 pupils."

"Manilla and Center ranked highest in attendance record for the first four months with an average of 99.2 each, and Center also ranked first in the consolidated schools for the same period of school."

"The report of the high schools in the county also shows the number of tardies and the total number of minutes lost on account of tardiness. Three high schools went through the first semester without a single tardy, these being Moscow, Webb and Center."

"Milroy high school had 64 tardies which caused 616 minutes to be lost—this was the largest number of tardies during the 4 months. Homer and New Salem each had 6 tardies, the former losing thereby 41 minutes and the latter 115 minutes; Manilla had 8 tardies with a loss of 47 minutes; Raleigh and Arlington had 4 tardies each, losing 36 minutes each."

RECEIVES BIDS ON ASSESSORS TO GET A COAL UNLOADER READY FOR WORK

City Council Faces Tasks of Awarding
Contract to One of Fifteen
Firms Seeking It

THIRTEEN SALESMEN HERE

Expenditure of Few Thousand Dollars
Will Save City Money—Routine Business Transacted

The city council held a long meeting Tuesday night, when several matters were taken care of, including the receiving of bids, as previously advertised, for the building and erection of a coal conveyor and unloader for the city water and light plant. A total of 15 firms submitted bids, and a decision on the purchase was deferred until the councilmen had more time to investigate.

The prices on the various kinds of unloaders ranged from $4,500 complete to $18,000. Some firms submitted more than one bid, and others submitted bids in sections for different parts of the machinery.

Thirteen of the firms were represented in person, and each salesman was given an opportunity to discuss his machinery privately with the council, and it was not until a late hour that all of the men had been heard.

The water and light plant spends between $2,500 and $3,000 a year for handling coal and ashes, and it is also believed a profitable thing to install machinery which will unload coal from the cars, carry it to the boilers, and also rake out and carry away the ashes.

An architect will be employed to draw up plans and specifications for a new roof which is now needed over a section of the plant, and which will be made strong enough to support any of the machinery which will be purchased as the result of the bids submitted last night.

In taking up the regular routine of the business, the street commissioner was ordered to notify property owners living in the vicinity of Fourth and Morgan streets, to repair the stone walls, which are said to be in a dangerous condition, and which might topple over on pedestrians.

A discussion was held on the drainage of streets in East Tenth and East Ninth, and the sewer committee will make a personal investigation of the matter, and report on the two at the next meeting.

SALE OF CHRISTMAS SEALS NETS $1,349.86

Gross Receipts Amount To $1,801.82,
Of Which Sum $435.36 Goes To
State Association

HOW MONEY WILL BE SPENT

The sale of Christmas Seals and Health Bonds in Rush county during the 1922 campaign netted $1,349.86, it was announced today.

The gross sales and contributions amounted to $1,801.82, which reveals that the Psi Iota Xi sorority, which was in charge of the campaign, passed the quota of $1,800 fixed for the county. Of the total raised in the county, $412.60 came from the townships and $1,389.22 from Rushville city.

The expenses of the sale were $16.00 which left $1,785.22, the net sum divided between the county and state tuberculosis association. Twenty-five per cent of the first $1,500, amounting to $375.00, and twenty per cent of the remainder, 301.82, which amounted to 60.36, went to the state association making the total sent to the state, $435.36.

The balance of $1,349.86 left in the county will be used under the direction of the Rushville Woman's Council in financing the visiting nurse in Rushville, the Modern Health Crusade in the public schools of the county and the tuberculosis clinics, four of which will be held in the county this year.

TO DISCUSS ASSESSMENT

District Meeting of County Assessors
From Dozen Counties to be Held Here Feb. 20

A district meeting of county assessors will be held here Tuesday, February 20, for the purpose of discussing the spring assessment of property for taxation purposes, and two days later, on Thursday, February 22, a meeting of township assessors and their deputies will be held here to prepare for their annual duties.

The district meeting will include assessors from all of the counties of the sixth congressional district—Franklin, Union, Fayette, Wayne, Henry, Hancock, Shelby and Rush, in addition to those from Johnson, Decatur, Delaware and Madison, who have also been invited to the conference.

Although the state board of tax commissioners does not desire to be represented at the district meeting of assessors, it happens that Walter Bridges, a representative of the state board, will be in this vicinity on that day and will attend. He will preside at a meeting of township assessors at Liberty Monday preceding the district meeting here, and at Connersville the day following, and for this reason will spend the intervening day at the district meeting in Rushville.

Earl F. Priest, Rush county assessor, in calling the meeting of township assessors, for Thursday, February 22, emphasized that they were not invited to the district meeting and urged that they not get the two sessions confused.

The annual assessment of property will begin March 1 and will be completed within sixty days. Only personal property will be appraised this year and the task will be much lighter than it was in 1922, when both real estate and personal property were assessed. Improvements, however, will be placed upon the assessment sheet but this does not call for the difficult task of assessing all real estate and improvements which are appraised every four years.

The law requiring all personal property to be taken at its true cash value is still in force and the state board of tax commissioners has al-

LAST CONTINGENT IS IN AMERICAN WATERS

Standing Off Thebye Island St. Mihel
Was Expected To Dock At Savannah At 2:30

WELCOME LIKE WAR TIMES

Bremen, Feb. 7.—Fifty American officers and 100 enlisted men, left overs of the last of the American army of occupation, sailed for New York in the steamer America today.

Savannah, Ga., Feb. 7.—The United States army of occupation home from the Rhine, reached American waters today.

Standing off Thebye Island, while Savannah awaited with a welcome as enthusiastic as in war times, the Steamer St. Mihel, was sighted 11:20 a. m. with 1200 khaki-clad figures jamming the rails. The vessel stopped at quarantine and was to swing into her berth at the dock about 2:30 p. m.

A governor's salute of 21 guns will be fired by two revolutionary cannon presented to Savannah by George Washington, as the ship comes up the bay. A battery of 75's will take up the salute and then harbor crafts, and other whistles and sirens will join in the din.

The banks of the channel leading to the docks were lined with crowds before dawn.

SCORES ARE ENDANGERED

Liner Wilhelmina And Freighter Collide In Pacific

(By United Press)
San Francisco, Calif., Feb. 7.—Scores of lives were endangered today when the liner Wilhelmina carrying 100 passengers and the freighter Sierra collided at sea, seven miles off the Golden Gate entrance to San Francisco bay.

Advices five hours after the collision described the Sierra as "lifting on her side at an angle of 45 degrees, waterlogged and helpless." The Wilhelmina was reported leaking badly but later was reported to be taking on a comparative small leak of water. It was standing by while her passengers lined the rails watching the sea disaster.

MINORITY THREAT TO LEAVE SENATE

Democratic Senators Assert They Will Leave Chamber After Storm
Over State Finances

DEFEATED AT EVERY TURN

Another Effort to Abolish State Highway Commission and Department of Conservation

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 7.—A threat of democratic state senators to leave the senate chamber for the remainder of the legislative session was made today by minority leader Joseph Cravens, following a political storm over the question of state finances.

"Go ahead and leave the chamber," shouted Senator Dailey of Indianapolis. "You are obstructing legislation anyway."

Senator Cravens had presented a resolution of protest against refusal of state officials to enlighten the senate on the financial conditions of the Indiana government. His resolution was tabled by the vote of the republican majority and Cravens thundered the threat.

"Our constitutional rights are being violated here every day of the session," Cravens declared. "There is no rule under which that resolution can be tabled."

Lieut. Governor Branch, presiding, gavelled for order and informed Cravens that "the majority of this senate will rule as long as I sit in the chair as presiding officer."

Later Branch withdrew the action by which the resolution had been tabled and permitted it to go on the senate journal as a matter of record.

Another effort to abolish the state highway commission and another attack against the department of conservation were launched in the legislature today.

Representative Freeman introduced a bill which would dissolve the highway commission and confer its duties upon the governor, auditor and treasurer of state.

A bill to abolish the office of the director of the department of conservation now held by Richard Lieber was presented by Representative Peterson. The bill would place the duties now performed by Lieber upon the members of the conservation commission.

There was a brief tilt in the house of representatives over the Love bill which was drafted to compel the auditor of state to sell submerged land in any community to the highest bidder on petition of five free-holders. Finally the house adopted the majority report of Judiciary B. committee, recommending that the measure be amended to provide that the sale be approved by the auditor, the governor and treasurer of state. The bill must be higher than the assessed value of the property. The Love measure was the outgrowth of the dispute over the sale of Lake county land to Jones-Laughlin steel companies which has been delayed by the auditor awaiting a satisfactory bid.

Party lines in the state house of representatives remained intact today with the republican majority of four votes solidly aligned on party measures. They survived the test.

ULTIMATUM TO THE ALLIES REPORTED

Turks Said to Have Ordered All
Warships of More Than 1,000
Tons to Leave Smyrna

BRITISH TO TEST IT OUT

Send Warship "Considerable Over
1,000 Tons" Just "to See What Will Happen"

(By United Press)

London, Feb. 7.—The Turkish government has issued an ultimatum ordering all allied warships over 1,000 tons to leave Smyrna harbor before midnight tonight, it was learned on the highest authority today.

In response to the ultimatum, Great Britain sent a warship of "considerable over 1,000 tons" to Smyrna "to see what will happen."

In the meantime, acting under orders from London, the British acting high commissioner at Constantinople conferred with the Turkish representative at Constantinople, urgently requesting the Ankara government to rescind the ultimatum.

The British cruiser to test the Turk is expected to arrive at Smyrna late this afternoon. It is believed here there is little likelihood of serious development partially because the harbor is inadequately fortified with little ammunition but principally because the Turks recognize the strength and also the potential friendliness of the British position.

The Ankara government has given ample indication of desiring peace with Great Britain—but Britain is determined not to permit Turkey to issue any ultimatums, and any others will be met as was the present one.

The British cabinet this afternoon, for the third consecutive day, considered the situation created by the breakdown of the Lausanne conference and considers it unlikely the conference will be resumed.

The British have not communicated with Ismet Pasha, as reported from Paris, but are waiting the Turkish envoy's next move.

Britain is prepared to send another delegate to Lausanne and continue to negotiate with the Turk if categorical assurances are offered that agreement can be reached, it was stated today.

The British cabinet has decided to send a note to the Ankara government and ask just what reservations Turkey desires.

If satisfactory reply is received, Britain may agree to resume discussion with assurance France will follow suit. Otherwise, the British feel

TO BUILD ANOTHER CANAL

Government Plans Another One in Vicinity Of Panama Waterway

Washington, Feb. 7.—This government is planning to build another canal in the vicinity of the Panama canal with the profit derived from the latter, it was said at the White House today.

This, however, is an ultimate object of the government and probably will not be consummated for some time yet.

Two probable locations have been suggested. The abandoned site of the proposed canal through Nicaragua and a tide water canal at Panama.

The present canal is operating now only up to a 40 per cent capacity. It cleared in profits last year over $1,500,000 according to a report Secretary of War Weeks made to the cabinet Tuesday when the whole subject was discussed.

Minerals for Swine

What Ohio State University Agricultural Extension Service Says About

"Relatively little has been said in the past about feeding mineral to hogs. But of late special attention is being given to this feature of feeding. The present trend of hog production is toward larger hogs. This being true, it takes more bone to support these heavier hogs. Stronger bone means that there must be more mineral matter supplied in the feed to produce it. Experiments show that in average hog feeds hogs do not secure enough mineral matter to produce sufficient bone, and it is more true in the growing of these larger present-day animals. The only way to meet this need, then, is to feed the hogs, especially growing pigs, some special mineral mixture."

The ACME MINERALS that we are manufacturing are made according to the complete Mineral Formula with the nine different ingredients which was worked out at the Iowa Experimental Station by Prof. Evvard, and we will ship to any farmer or feeder the nine different ingredients sacked separately and they may mix their own if they choose, at the same price per hundred as the ready mixed.

In buying your mineral mixture, be sure that you buy the complete Mineral Mixture with the nine different ingredients and beware of imitations.

MINORITY THREAT TO LEAVE SENATE

of strength in the division over the appropriation bill late yesterday.

Both the 52 republicans and the 48 democratic members of the house were happy. The republicans found the appropriations to their liking including the $2,000,000 request of Governor McCray to be applied to construction of the new reformatory at Pendleton.

The democrats believed they had a fund of good campaign material and planned to shoot at the republicans on the grounds of extravagance, consequently both sides were celebrating victory.

Only one member of the house failed to stay in line in the strict party division. He was representative Myron Post of Anderson, a democrat, who voted with the republicans against the amendment to reduce the reformatory appropriation. Post represents the county in which the reformatory is being constructed.

When the smoke cleared away it was found the appropriation bill as submitted by the budget committee had not been changed materially. The net result was a reduction of approximately $165,000 in the $16,000,000 total.

A Delightful Row

"My wife had suffered from stomach and liver trouble for many years and had taken medicine enough to sink a ship; so when I brought home a bottle of May's Wonderful Remedy, on the advice of my employer, she refused to take it. Her liver trouble hadn't helped her disposition any. We had a big row, but she took it the next week. Her ailments have all disappeared." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale by druggists everywhere. —Advertisement

EAST COAST STORM SWEEP

(By United Press)

Chicago, Feb. 7.—Northern sections of states bordering on the Great Lakes were blanketed with snow, ranging from one to seven inches in depth. In the southern sections rain fell during the night.

Clear and much higher temperatures for the entire midwest were predicted.

Unseasonably warm weather for several days was forecast.

New York, Feb. 7.—The Atlantic seaboard from New England to the Carolinas was a blizzard-swept today.

Five inches of snow fell in New York and vicinity last night and early today while a hurricane was reported off the Hatteras coast.

All eastern trains were three or four hours late while ships at sea were buffeted by the storm.

The Indiana weather prediction was for cloudy and warmer weather tonight and Thursday, despite the fact that a cold wave warning was issued Tuesday night. Some snow fell last night and this morning and the mercury remained below freezing all day.

THE TENDER SHEPHERD:—
He shall feed His flock like a shepherd; He shall gather the lambs with His arm, and carry them in His bosom.—Isaiah 40: 11.

Concealed Weapons

Passage by the state senate of a bill giving certain classes of citizens a right to carry pistols or revolvers calls to mind the fact that a uniform revolver-law is pending in the United States senate and that it is designed to cure of the ills which are attributable to the carrying of concealed weapons.

The measure proposed in the legislature, if it becomes a law, will not offer a very effective method of dealing with this evil, because it is too indefinite, and because it does not strike at the source of the trouble—the criminal.

The state legislature contemplates authorizing people coming under the general classification of "merchants" to carry concealed firearms for their own safety. In the first place, "merchants" is a term that is difficult to define because anyone engaged in buying and selling might come under that head.

There is already a law providing a penalty for carrying concealed weapons, but its enforcement is so lax and the penalty is so insignificant that it does not deter the criminally-bent individual from possessing a pistol if he feels that need of one.

It is doubtful if any law could ever be devised that will absolutely prevent a criminal from supplying himself with a weapon of some kind. The fact is admitted by all who have given the question any study. It would be possible to prohibit the legitimate manufacture and sale of firearms, such as the bandit uses and it would be possible to stop their importation, but the criminal would still have his gun.

If such laws were put in effect, there are plenty of so-called "hand guns" in this country, it is asserted, to supply the criminal demand for years to come. If the criminal did not own one, he could very easily obtain one in some way. Failing in an attempt to steal a gun, he could smuggle one from another country or buy one from a pistol bootlegger, a gentry that would undoubtedly spring up in the wake of prohibitory legislation of this character.

It has been argued that to forbid

the manufacture and sale of pistol and revolver ammunition, would be to lessen the number of homicides, but if the supply of ammunition were diminished by this means, it would be the law-abiding citizen who would be placed at a disadvantage. Many ways would be found by the forehanded criminal to obtain ammunition. Those familiar with the manufacture of ammunition say that powder and lead would always be available and the modern pistol or revolver cartridge with the brass shell may be used many times.

The question resolves itself, then, into one of a regulatory measure that would keep a check on all pistols and revolvers sold. Such a law would not place the law-abiding citizen at the mercy of the law violator or who would obtain a gun at any cost.

The measure pending in the United States senate would permit he who has regard for the law to arm himself and at the same time provide severe penalties for the use of pistols or revolvers in the commission of crimes, or for the unauthorized carrying of weapons of this character on one's person or in vehicles.

Let the criminal know that the mere possession of a pistol will add several years to the sentence he would ordinarily receive for his crime and shootings and homicides might be materially reduced.

Dealers are licensed under the proposed federal law and a record of the sale of each revolver or pistol must be filed with the police. Owners who carry such firearms must have a license from the police and dealers are not permitted to display pistols or revolvers, or imitations thereof, which can be seen from outside the store. Aliens, minors and persons convicted of a felony would not be permitted to possess concealed firearms and possession of a pocket firearm without legal permission would be regarded as prima facie evidence of criminal intent and would be punishable by a mandatory sentence of five years extra imprisonment.

The Rural Police Bill

Some newspapers have been applauding because the congress has looped off $365,000 which has been annually appropriated for free seeds—a sum that is paid by all the taxpayers of the United States—and then in the next column insisting on the establishment of a rural police force which would impose a much heavier tax burden on the taxpayers, not because it would be more costly than free seed, but because the expense would have to be met by Indiana alone and would cost the people of the state many times more than free seeds ever cost.

This is no defense of free seeds distributed by congressmen, but the analogy is plain. There is no need for either, and why should one be condemned and the other supported.

In support of the rural police bill, we note the argument that passage of the bill "would give much needed protection to the wives and families of farmers, the protection which city residents have so long enjoyed."

So it is the poor and helpless farmer who needs the protection, but he was not aware of it. He has not been adopting resolutions, insisting on the passage of the bill. He never knew he was in danger. He seldom looks his doors when he leaves home. He knows and everyone else knows that nine-tenths of the crime is in the large centers of population even though they "enjoy" the protection of a large force of police.

Furthermore, one troop of eighty-four rural policemen patrolling the highways of Indiana would not scratch the surface. In a state 270 miles long and 140 miles wide, they would be as ineffectual as a small town constable trying to stop the fastest automobile on wheels.

If there were any real demand for such a force, and any real use to which it could be put, the bill might have some merit, but it has little more to recommend it than the free seeds appropriation because it would be of little more value, and we must weigh its worth against what it will cost.

Income Tax Facts

Anomalous as it may seem, a person may be married and yet single for the purpose of the income tax law. A taxpayer's status with regard to exemptions and credits is determined as of the last day of the taxable year. December 31, 1922, if the return is made on the calendar year basis, as most are. If on that day a man and his wife were living together they are entitled to an exemption of $2,000 or $2,500, according to the amount of their net income for 1922. If, however, they were divorced, each is allowed only the $1,000 exemption granted a single person.

In the absence of continuous residence together, the question of whether man and wife are living together in the eyes of the income-tax law depends upon the character of the separation. If, occasionally the husband is away on business, or if for any necessary reason a temporary separation exists, the full exemption is allowed. The presence of a wife at a sanitarium or her unavoidable absence because of ill health does not change the marital status, and the husband is entitled to the full exemption. But when the husband makes his home at one place and his wife at another, they are not living together for the purpose of the income tax law.

The law works both ways. A man may wed on December 31, yet he is granted the exemption allowed a married person for the full year. The wife's income for 1922, however, must be considered with that of her husband in filing a return. A widow whose wife died before the end of the taxable year is classed as a single man and allowed only an exemption of $1,000.

Similar conditions exist with respect to the head of the family. If during the year his support of relatives in his home ceased he is entitled to the $1,000 exemption. A man who has a dependent child, not mentally or physically defective, that attains the age of 19 years just before the close of the taxable year can not claim the $400 for a dependent. Likewise, if a dependent dies before the end of the benefactor's taxable year, the $400 credit is not allowable.

PEOPLE'S SAYSO

The Rushville Republican:
The article in the Rush County News of the first instance entitled "protest made over appointment" in which our county auditor is criticized for his lawful act in appointing a trustee for Center township, and signed 100 percent American, does not carry the same weight it would had the skirts of the democratic party been spotless. He says "we elected a democratic trustee in our township," which we all admit. But the question of politics did not enter into the campaign nearly so much as 100 percent perhaps thinks.

The personality of the candidates, the school house and gymnasium question, distribution of patronage such as road work, buying gravel, etc., had as much to do with it as politics, and as evidence of the above assertion, note the fact that there was only a margin of eleven votes for the successful candidate, also there was one Republican member of the advisory board elected in a township that has always been safely democratic," as claimed by 100 percent American.

Again the applicant for trustee whose petition contained over three hundred names, was at one time repudiated by the voters of Center township and was defeated by his Republican opponent, and he also had been as bitterly opposed at another time for the office of road supervisor by some who were his most loyal supporters for trustee in this instance.

Then 100 percent takes us away back to 1876 and to the national election of that year. That of course his very little to do with the appointment of a trustee for Center township, but looking backward is perhaps a good and instructive diversion, at times, so let us look back to 1886 for instance, to the time when Lieutenant Governor Robertson was elected and a democratic legislature prevented him from taking his seat as president of the senate by a force of sixty door-keepers, some of them thugs imported from other states and noted for their pugilistic abilities.

And it may be recalled by many that when the then democratic supreme court refused to declare his election illegal, that the Indianapolis Sentinel, the Democratic state paper, appeared the next day with the glaring headlines—"The Supreme court, Damn their cowardly souls." In regard to the auditor making the appointment he was only fulfilling the law, and could not have made a better selection. If this law does not suit the people of the state or 100 percent American, now is a good time while the legislature is in session to have it repealed or amended. For the benefit of 100 percent American we would suggest a law that whenever a vacancy occurs in any office in this state, whether by death, resignation or expiration of the present incumbent's term, the same shall be filled by a democrat.

We would suggest also that "100 percent American" try Emile Cone's auto-suggestion for the relief of his intestinal trouble, or reduce his percent to comply with the eighteenth amendment. It might be said of 100 percent American as Artemus Ward said about the monkey, "he's an amusin' little cuss."

Hittin' 'Em & Missin' 'Em

ITS A GOOD NAME WHY NOT USE IT?

Every school has a name. If its a one room building it is called Gahm-er or Nell's Corner; if its a two room building it has an individual name. The Rushville high school has a name—it is the Graham high school, and Hittin' 'em is in favor of having that word Graham printed on the basketball jerseys. All cities are doing it. Up at Richmond it is the Morton high school, at Seymour it is the Shield high school, and Central of Evansville, Garfield of Terre Haute and why not Graham of Rushville? That one word across the jerseys either in front or behind, might change the luck in the next game, and besides it would look better at the sectional, regional and state tourney. What do you say, gang?

We haven't heard much from Newcastle lately. They have lost three in a row—Muncie, Rushville and Marion. They are doomed again Friday as they meet Connersville.

COMING LOADED FRIDAY

Cathedral high school is coming loaded Friday night, according to word from Indianapolis. Their school semester has ended, and several new players who have been ineligible will be in the line-up. They won't have to load up any, if that man O'Conner plays center. He has an accurate eye for the basket from any place on the floor.

Hittin' 'em is just wondering if the Rushville team is practicing on the basket this week. All you fellows have to do, is to be more deliberate with your shots, take your time, and place the ball where it is supposed to go. It's not the fault of the ball, if it don't go through.

We'd practice on foul goals until our hair turned white, but what we would make at least 8 out of 10 shots.

THE REAL ALL COUNTY AGGREGATION

If Hittin' 'em were pickin' a Rush county high school basketball team—composed of players living in this county, we'd pick the following: Barnett (Shelbyville), Baker (Manilla), Readmond (Milroy), forwards; Hodges, (Shelbyville), and Gosnell (Moscow) as centers; Phillips (Rushville), Cowan (Milroy), and McCorkle (Milroy), as guards. That bunch of Rush county boys could beat Vincennes, or even knock the props out from under that Passaic, N. J. team.

FAN SAYS ANDERSON IS ROUGH

Dear Hittin' 'em—We have been reading your column with much interest. We want to say a word about the Anderson's game with Rushville in the near future. We have always heard that Staggs has taught his men to rough up their opponents, get them scared and then go ahead and win. Watch him Rushville, and rough 'em back. Signed, A Fan.

AND ALSO THIS—

The same writer also says: "You are always pickin' Anderson for the state. We hope you are right, but Anderson didn't rough up the Alice-town boys the other night. We wonder why?" Hittin' 'em has always heard that Anderson was rough, Mr. Fan, but after seeing them play a few games, we decided that they weren't rough, but that the other fellows just got in their way, and couldn't keep pace with 'em, and naturally they would get knocked down now and then, and maybe stepped on. Rushville will have to step fast, and they will have to keep out of their way, if they don't want to get roughed up a little.

CHEER UP TECH—IT COULDN'T BE MUCH WORSE

Tech of Indianapolis, with eleven straight games lost, missed their chance. They should have played Rushville this year, where they had an opportunity of winning a game—perhaps.

If Rushville hadn't won a game this season, we wonder how many people would turn out to see 'em play. One thing about the team this year, they always die fighting—but we would a whole lot rather see 'em live.

A FINANCIAL BOOST

Since Connersville will play over here in the sectional tourney, it will mean one big thing financially: There will be a scramble for tickets at the tourney, because each school is allowed one ticket for each pupil in high school, and Connersville gets 570 of 'em, while Rushville gets only 275. All others towns will have their share, and we doubt if there will be enough to go around for the outside fans, who will have a chance to buy tickets turned back from the schools.

Giving Wilson Fighting Chance

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Feb. 7.—Beyond showing twice that he is the champion of Mike O'Dowd, Johnny Wilson hasn't done a thing much in two years.

Johnny failed to convince the New York Boxing Commission that he was the world's middleweight champion and he has had a tough time making anyone believe he could even fight.

World's ring titles usually bring fortunes and luck in great gobs, but when Wilson stumbled into the middleweight regal robes he got his feet all tangled up and he is still down.

He has been under suspension so long by the New York Commission that a change of heart is being felt in the official circle and it is understood that he will soon be allowed to go back to his business.

The New York Commissioners should be commended for symptoms of giving Wilson a square deal, but after looking over the situation, it begins to appear that the commission is being nice to Wilson, just to give him a harder sock.

When Wilson does go back to work, he will find so few middleweights who can draw a dime at the door that he will have to start associating with the light heavyweights.

And what a nice congenial bunch of boys he will find hanging around in that class with a sock ready for him—Greb, Gibbons, Tunney, Loughran and a few others.

Wilson should have been reinstated many months ago. He has been under suspension for alleged violation of a rule that other champions failed to observe and have escaped without even notice.

As long as Wilson is not permitted to earn a living, Harry Greb should not be permitted to box in New York.

Wilson was suspended because he failed to accept the challenge of Greb. When Greb was challenged, he ignored it because he did not want to make the weight in the class.

Greb was reinstated after serving a few weeks, but Wilson is "still on the ground."

If Wilson is to be made that goat of the "champions must defend their titles every six months," Leonard, Lynch and Dempsey ought to get the same dose.

Dempsey's talk that he has no one to fight that he is a battling king with no more world's to conquer, is the truth if Harry Wills Tommy Gibbons, Jess Willard, Bill Brennan and a couple of others are not considered his being in the world.

Dempsey, however, may not be afraid to step into the ring, but Joe Lynch is getting timid about his shadow and Benny Leonard is suffering chills in his shoes.

Dempsey will go into the ring if he can get $500,000 from some weak-minded promoter and the other pair want almost as much to defend their titles.

The Count of 36 to 13

The Arlington Athletic Club sent the Shelbyville Elks home Tuesday night with the short end of the 23 to 22 count, in the closest and most hard fought game seen at the Arlington gymnasium for some time.

The two basketball teams fought neck and neck most of the way, the Elks scoring the first two points on a foul. They were soon matched by a field goal by Gardner of the A. C's. In the first few minutes of play the two teams fought desperately, the A. C's running the score up six points. The Elks evened up the score with two foul goals by Richardson and when the half ended they were leading by two points.

In the second half Arlington came back strong and were leading by four points with ten minutes to go. However, the Elks took a streak of luck and evened up the score and then took the lead and held it by 22 to 21 until the final ten seconds of play. Gardner saved the game for Arlington with a long field goal just before the gun was fired, making the final score 23 to 22.

Gardner was the outstanding star for Arlington, making five field goals, followed closely by Shook who made three. W. Richardson showed best for the Elks, making four field goals. Kaufman at center for the Elks also made a good showing. Shelbyville was very much disappointed as they expected an easy game, but soon found out that they had run up against real opposition.

The Junior A. C's won their game handily from the Rushville Shamrocks, 36 to 13. Miller for the Juniors made eighteen points. Davis showed best for the Shamrocks.

The district independent basketball tournament will be held at the Arlington gymnasium on February 16 and 17 and so far nine teams have entered the tourney.

WEEKLY STORE NEWS

From ALLEN'S

Cheap foods are never worth what they cost. They are of no value as tissue builders—they merely fill you up.

Real economy in foods lies in buying goods that have nutritive value and possess a flavor that makes them palatable and enjoyable. There is no waste or extravagance in our groceries, the best foods cost no more than ordinary kinds when bought from us.

LOYALTY is not a one-sided flour. It is made to serve the whole circle of kitchen economy. Try it. We believe that you will find it better than the one you thought best.

We are receiving shipments of oysters every few days, solid pack, no water, sealed containers that guarantee their purity to the consumer.

Some folks have always objected to oleomargarine on account of the fact that it had to be colored. TINTED CHURNGOLD removes this objection, no artificial coloring is used, yet the color is practically the same as of creamery butter.

We have just got another mammoth cheese. Last week we were asked by a salesman to write a letter to a grocer in another city telling him the number of mammoth cheese we sell each winter. The grocer had doubted the salesman's word when he told him; said it couldn't be done. Rush county folks know good cheese when they taste it.

Winamac School Class Serves Dinner From Native Products.

Winamac, Ind., Feb. 7.—A lunch prepared entirely from farm products raised in Pulaski county and served by the Home Economics class of the Winamac high school was held here by the Kiwanis club at the suggestion of County Agent I. J. Mathews. Farmers donated the food so that business men might know the value of Pulaski farm products.

The menu listed chicken, baked soybeans, mashed potatoes, cabbage salad, corn bread from flour and corn grown and milled in the county, honey, apple dumplings with whipped cream and pure milk guaranteed free from tubercular germs. Even the "pure Havans" came from Pulaski tobacco farms and were wrapped in a Winamac factory.

ready made it plain that it will expect the county assessors to see that the rule is uniformly followed.

The purpose of the meeting to be held this month will be to give the township assessors who were elected last November an opportunity to meet together and get acquainted so that there will be a better understanding among them when they start out upon their work. It is expected that a schedule relative to figures at which various articles of personal property will be assessed this year will be compiled so that all classes of property throughout the county will be listed upon exactly the same basis. For several years such lists have been prepared but it is necessary that a range of values be allowed, so after all the assessment rests very largely upon the judgment of the deputy. Mr. Bridges, a representative of the state tax board will meet with the township assessors and outline in a general way just how the state board expects the work to be done.

Prior to March 1 the various township assessors will appoint deputies where assistants are required. In some townships the assessors are able to do much of the work themselves and particularly so this year when only personal property is to be listed. In this township several deputies will be appointed by George Aultman, township assessor. He will divide the township into districts so that the work can be done to the best advantage.

PAULS CREED WAS SIMPLE, SECURE

Every Man Has One That Represents What He Believes, Says The Rev. W. McClean Work

SAYS ATHEISM HAS A CREED

More Faith Required to be an Infidel Than to Believe in God and The Bible

The Rev. W. McClean Work, who is preaching at a series of special meetings at the First United Presbyterian church, spoke Tuesday night on Second Timothy, 1:12, "I know Him whom I believed and am persuaded that He is able to guard that which have committed to Him against that day."

"Every man has a creed," asserted the minister. "It may be short or long, but it represents what he believes. Columbus believed the world to be round, and America was discovered. Benjamin Franklin believed that there is power in the clouds and this building is lighted with electricity. Somebody believed that there is power in steam and our wonderful civilization was built up. Even infidelity and atheism have a creed. Those who have read after the great doubters and skeptics have been impressed with the great extent of their credulity. It requires more faith to be an infidel than to believe in God and the Bible. The text gives Paul's creed. It did not rest on the statement of a book, but on a person. 'I know Him whom I have believed.'"

The topic chosen was "Paul's Creed." Four things were said of it: 1. It was simple. The speaker told of a meeting held in college where the very finest scholars spoke before the students on the evidence of Christianity. They marshalled the proofs of the resurrection, and they were not moved. Then an old, ignorant huckster from the town, one well known to all the boys, came and spoke to about 270 of them. His first question was "How many of you love Jesus?" They looked at him and at one another, and every hand went up.

"Theology is necessary, but a living faith is vital. And it must rest on a person. And that person is Jesus Christ," said the speaker.

"2. Paul's creed was satisfying. It satisfied his mind and his heart. It furnished the foundation of confidence and of freedom. It removed fear from his heart and doubt from his mind.

"3. Paul's creed was sufficient. It was compared to a blank check signed with the name of a man of wealth and placed in his hand. All that was necessary was to fill in the amount and pay the bill. Paul's faith was fixed on one able to perform whatever he willed. In this was the contrast with any human friend. The human friend is limited. Jesus Christ is not limited. He is able to guard that which I have committed to him."

The preacher said, "If you know whom you believe, you will soon come to know what you believe." Instances were cited where men believed in Jesus Christ, but were oppressed with doubts as to other matters. But soon faith in a person dispelled doubts as to things.

"4. Paul's creed was secure. 'He was able to guard.' Scientific theories and theological theories are legion in number. They arise and disappear. As one passes, another takes its place. Text books in science more than ten years old are of little value and are thrown out of schools and libraries.

The speaker thought that we attacks on God's word and on His attacks on God's word and on His Church. In his opinion, faith on a person rather than on things, or statements, would tend to lend security to faith. He said that "belief in Christ would make us secure from ridicule. This is the poisoned shaft that most often comes from a little mind. Such ones take pleasure in attacks on the young Christian and those of immature experience."

The case of the soldiers mistreating Christ was cited. They arrayed Him in a purple robe. They placed a crown of thorns on His brow. They put a reed in His hand for a scepter. Then they spat upon Him, and bowed the knee in the mockery of worship. "He is able to save, also, from indifference," said Mr. Work. "The race of Cain has perished from the earth. No man any more asks this question—'Am I my brother's keeper?' Everybody knows that each one is responsible for his brother man. 'No man liveth to himself and no man dieth to himself'."

The sermon closed with a strong appeal to those unsaved to take Jesus Christ as the ground of their confidence. This was the most enjoyed of all the addresses so far. One decision was secured that brought an entire family into the circle of the church.

The topic for this evening is Christ's Summons to 20th Century Woman. A cordial invitation is extended to all to come back again tonight and bring a friend along.

PLANS STARTED FOR PRE-EASTER SERVICES

Committee Appointed At Last Presbyterian Church Meeting For Two Weeks Series

CHURCH COUNCIL PROPOSED

Arrangements were made for pre-Easter services for the two weeks preceding Easter, which falls on April 1 this year, at the meeting of the officers of the First Presbyterian church in the church parlors Tuesday evening.
It was the first meeting of the official board with the new pastor, the Rev. Gibson Wilson who assumed his pastoral duties last Sunday, and it was his wish that the services be held to begin Sunday, March 18. The pastor will preach and will be assisted by an evangelist singer. Committees were appointed to prepare for the series of meetings.

A proposed church council to meet on the last Tuesday night of each month was also projected at the meeting of the church officers last night. The church council would consist of the officers of all the different organizations of the church. At council meetings they would discuss the general church problems and of all organizations for the forthcoming month.

their position in the Near East is extremely sound from a military and economic viewpoint.

Although deprecating a war scare, the military and naval authorities at London are known to be going carefully over the ground and plans already have been outlined that involve seizure of Constantinople.

Lausanne, Feb. 7.—Both the Russians and the Turks left Lausanne today and rumblings of impending war in the Near East followed on their heels.

Ismet Pasha, recalcitrant to the last, departed for Angora with a majority of the Ottoman delegation at 6:40 a. m., leaving a few secretaries "in case the allies change their minds". M. Massigli, representing the entente, bade them a cordial farewell at the station, but feeling was that the peace parley was definitely at an end.

The Russians, still protesting that the allies must meet their terms regarding the straits, which they wished closed to warships left at 8 o'clock.

and Willow streets, was granted permission to extend a sewer line 250 feet from his residence to Twelfth and Perkins, and connect with the main sewer, and the petitioner will defray all expense. The petitioner has built a new house, and he has no outlet for water in his basement, which is flooded most of the time, and by connecting with the sewer, he believes that it will take care of the water.

The city is going to push their claims against petitioners living between Fifth and Sixth street in Main street, who asked for paved alleys last fall. The petitioners desired to construct the alleys at their own cost, and the bids were received, but were regarded as being too high, and the matter was dropped, although the city is still holding the bag for $400 expense on the matter of having the alleys surveyed, advertised and other expenses.

In the future, a cash deposit is going to be required for persons wanting construction work done because in every case the city loses money, when the project fails.

BIG BOOZE BOYS TO STAND TRIAL

High Officials Of Calumet Involved In
Biggest Liquor Conspiracy In Middle West

FEW MAY PLEAD GUILTY

Mayor Johnson, City Judge Dunn And
Prosecutor Fall In Category Of
"Big Boys"

Indianapolis, Feb. 7.—Government booze hounds who followed a trail covered by Pretty Agnes Szabo to "the biggest liquor conspiracy in the midwest" involving high officials of the Calumet steel region said today "some more of the small fish may break ranks with pleas of guilty but the big boys will stand trial."

Mayor Roswell Johnson, City Judge William Dunn, Prosecutor Dwight Kinder, Sheriff William H. Olds, Former Sheriff Lewis Barnes and many other officials fell in the category of "the big boys." Lined up with "the small fish" were Ike Alvarez, Sam Marehuk and Mike Drakulich who admitted their guilt.

The teeth were taken out of the government's indictments when Judge A. B. Anderson sustained demurrers to the fifth count charging conspiracy to commit fraud against the United States government. That was the count upon which District Attorney Homer Elliott relied largely to obtain conviction. However, all of the other counts charge conspiracy in some form and Elliott said he will build up a case around each of them to make conviction doubly sure.

Trials will start March 14.

It was during the trial of a South Bend liquor conspiracy cases that Agnes Szabo, the uncrowned queen of booze runners, "spilled the beans." Verifying and enlarging on testimony of two Gary constables, Agnes with deliberation told of transactions in which she bought confiscated whiskey from agents of high officials and ran it along the hi-jacker, infested road to South Bend where she sold it.

CHILDLESS HOMES MADE HAPPY

Presence of Little Ones a Great Blessing

Four Interesting Letters

Cortland, N. Y.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because I was weak and wanted to become strong and have a child. My husband read about it in the 'Cortland Standard' and thought it might help me. It certainly did for I now have a lovely boy fifteen months old who weighs forty pounds. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to my friends and you can certainly use my testimonial in your little books and in the newspapers, as it might help to make some other childless home happy by the presence of little ones as it has done mine."—Mrs. CLAUDE P. CAMFIELD, 10 Salisbury St., Cortland, N. Y.

A Message to Mothers

Hamilton, Ohio.—"I have known about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound since girlhood, having taken it when I was younger and suffering from a weakness and backache. Lately I have taken it again to strengthen me before the birth of my child, as I was troubled with pains in my back and a lifeless, weak feeling. I think if mothers would only take your wonderful medicine they would not dread childbirth as they do. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to every woman."—Mrs. JOS. FALCOW, JR., 552 S. 11th Street, Hamilton, Ohio.

St. Louis, Mo.—"I want to tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me seven years ago. I was run down and had a weakness such as women often have. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and after being married sixteen years became the mother of a sweet little girl. I now have four lovely children—three fine boys and the little girl six years old. I had longed for children all the while and wept many a day and envied every woman with a child. I was 36 years old when my first baby was born. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to any woman who is ailing with female weakness."—Mrs. J. NAUMANN, 1517 Benton St., St. Louis, Mo.

Was Weak and Run Down

St. Louis, Mo.—"My mother took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound when I was a girl, and when I was troubled with cramps I took it, and later when I married I again took it to make me strong as the doctor said I was weak and run down and could not have children. I took it and got along fine and now I have three girls. So you know why I keep the Compound in the house. I am a well woman and do my work and sewing too."—Mrs. JULIUS HARTMAN, 2301 W. Dodier St., St. Louis, Mo.

AMUSEMENTS

"The Love Gambler," Mystic

John Gilbert, who will be remembered here for his exceptional portrayal of Dante in the pictorial version of Alexander Dumas' immortal romance, "Monte Cristo," returned to the Mystic Theatre today in a new vehicle, "The Love Gambler," in which he scores another success.

"The Love Gambler" contains a distinctly original story and John Gilbert, as Dick Manners, gives a thoroughly enjoyable characterization. Much credit also is due Miss Carmel Myers for her superlative portrayal of an untamed girl of the plains.

How Dick Manners, a "carefree youth from no place in particular, bound on the wings of the wind for the same place," gambled with destiny for the hand of a girl, provides the basis of this dramatic story, of the west, which, despite its light and breezy atmosphere, is replete with thrills and powerful dramatic moments.

Dick blows into town just in time to meet a youth beating a defenceless horse with a heavy end of a blacksnake whip, and decides to give him some of his own medicine. Just as he starts to give the man a beating a girl leaps from the crowd of on lookers and gives Dick a stinging blow across the face. A few minutes later some one told Dick the girl and a horse she owned, which had never been ridden, were the only two things her father had never been able to rule. Dick then and there placed a bet he not only could tame the horse but the girl as well.

A Story Of India

The story of "The Young Rajah" in which Rodolph Valentino appears today and Thursday at the Princess theatre introduces Amos Judd, first as a young Hindu prince—a child brought to this country for political reasons and placed in the care of Joshua and Sarah Judd, kindly New England farmers, together with an immense fortune. As the child grows up he demonstrates a remarkable gift of foretelling events, and his predictions always come true. As a man, he goes to Harvard and wins signal honors, but incurs the bitter animosity of Bennett who believes him responsible for the accident which causes the death of Slade Bennett's friend. Amos and Bennett fall in love with the same girl—Molly Cabot.

In India, there is religious conflict and a usurpation of the throne. The Maharajah plans to kill Amos and sends a delegation to America for that purpose. Amos wins Molly's love and the wedding is planned, but the former then has a vision of an attack upon himself by East Indians. Measures are taken for his protection, but the Hindus get him and are about to murder him when General Gadi, the man who had brought Amos as a child to America, the priest Nārada and Gadi's men save him. The priest tells Amos he must come back and free his people from the usurper. Amos fights between love and duty and finally decides he must fulfill the latter and returns to his native land.

Molly is heartbroken at his departure, but later Amos is seen looking into the waters of a beautiful lake wherein he sees the vision of a Hindu wedding and as the bride raises her veil, her face is that of the woman he loves—Molly. And Amos's visions always come true! Wanda Hawley plays opposite the star.

Pioneer In Her Art

A series of fancy exhibitions will be given at the Rollo Rink on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings by Adelaide D'Vorak, the world's greatest lady roller skater. Original acts and a varied program for each performance are assured the public. To Miss D'Vorak credit must be given in a large measure, now that fancy skating has become an art, as she is a pioneer in the field.

Miss D'Vorak carries the most beautiful costumes of any skater before the public. The most elaborate costume in her $1,000 wardrobe of rich gowns is a Turkish harem costume. Arrayed in this, she was awarded a gold loving cup by Queen Mary of England, her dress being chosen as the most distinctive of the 15 skaters, who appeared at the Olympia Rink, London.

Miss D'Vorak is a booster of roller skating as a sport and states that it has an advantage over ice skating inasmuch as it can be enjoyed the year round and that it never grows monotonous. She states that it is the best exercise to develop and beautify the female form.

SULPHUR IS BEST TO CLEAR UP UGLY, BROKEN OUT SKIN

Any breaking out or skin irritation on face, neck or body is overcome quickest by applying Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation that instantly brings ease from the itching, burning and irritation.

Mentho-Sulphur heals eczema right up, leaving the skin clear and smooth. It seldom fails to relieve the torment or disfigurement. A little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur may be obtained at any drug store. It is used like cold cream.

You are good at getting down to the real facts in the case. Put a fancy hand on the Bankable cigar and it would have to sell for ten cents straight. Probably you've already figured that for yourself.
